World Peace

Maddie Wyatt

My wish for the world is as simple as this:
We could all take the time for a hug and a kiss
To those we all love and those we all cherish
Peace throughout the world that no one shall perish

For mothers and fathers and children at home
And children that choose to ramble and roam Take each day as it comes with great hopes for tomorrow
And lessons from them we always shall borrow

The world is in turmoil we all have been told
With global warming the world is still cold
With war and pain the children shall suffer
My wish for world peace would be such a buffer

Hopes for the future we hold in our hand
While each individual should take a new stand
To pay it all forward with bright hope on the way
Each child understands the challenge each day

My wish for the world will bring peace and hope
Each person is worthy and able to cope
We could live by our thoughts
As well as our deeds
